COMMENTS

This will be a great starter home for a savvy buyer, or this can be a great opportunity for an investor. The work was started in this home, but they were not able to complete it. 2 beautiful bathrooms have been installed along with the plumbing for the washer and dryer. The kitchen has been removed and relocated. However, you have a blank slate to install your dream kitchen. This is a great investment property and or to be brought back to like. It is easy to show.
