COMMENTS

The lot has been cleared, there are approved architectural drawings, piling drawings, and plot plan. The zoning approval has been acquired to allow for a single family home to be built on the lot. I have the plans to email and a quality local builder to build this custom home. There are bay views and the plans call for a home with a deck on the front that will overlook the bay. I have the plans to email Corner lot with direct Bay views. Walk to all area shopping, restaurants, casinos and boardwalk
