With over seven acres featuring two ponds, mature trees, and open space, this property offers unmatched possibilities for expansion, recreation, or future development. Opportunities like this are few and far between. Recent updates make the home move-in ready, including a six-year-old roof, two new mini-splits for efficient heating and cooling, a new sump pump, new water lines, new copper lines, and a newer well head. Inside, a gas fireplace adds cozy charm, while outside, a wraparound deck and fenced backyard invite gatherings and relaxation. The property also features a one-car detached garage, a large barn currently used as a workshop, and multiple sheds for storage, all accessible by a long driveway with ample parking. Whether you're an investor eyeing future potential, a homeowner seeking room to expand, or simply someone seeking a private retreat surrounded by nature, this property delivers a unique blend of peace, utility, and opportunity.
